

County budget slashed

Official plan and waste management put on hold, tax increase kept to five per cent

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

County council has slashed spending in the 1992 budget, dropping the county plan and the waste management master plan.

Dysart Reeve Chris Hodgson, who chairs the county's management committee, read a brief statement last Friday outlining the direction taken by council. The budget will not be adopted until this Wednesday's council meeting.

The county has not released any specific spending estimates and Hodgson's statement contained only general statements indicating the budget's contents.

The bottom line is a 4.85 per cent increase in the amount the county will raise through property taxes. Hodgson said, assuming a two per cent increase in assessment, the county's portion of individual tax bills will increase by just over two per cent.

Brian Cross shows off the giant silkworm moth which recently emerged from a cocoon he kept in a Rothman's tobacco container in his office at the Ministry of Natural Resources office in Minden. The moth now lives in a box in Cross's daughter's room.

Silkworm moth emerges at Minden MNR office

by Susan Grober

When a woman brought what she called a "big, disgusting" green caterpillar to Brian Cross of the Ministry of Natural Resources last summer, little did she realize it would spin itself a silken cocoon and turn into a big, beautiful moth.

Soon after Cross was given the caterpillar, it spun a thick, gray-brown cocoon, which Cross kept in a Rothman's tobacco container on top of his filing cabinet.

Normally, the container was kept open, but "whenever the cleaning lady came, she'd put the lid back on," says Cross.

To his surprise, a giant silkworm moth emerged from the cocoon last week.

"I thought it probably had it for the winter," he says.

The moth has already made an appearance at Archie Stouffer Elementary School, says Cross.

A member of the cecropia moth family, the giant silkworm moth is cream in colour, with black, white and rust markings. The adult moth doesn't feed, and has a wing expanse of 125 to 150 mm.

The caterpillar was found by a woman at Hart Lodge, and is a species commonly found throughout the eastern United States and in southern Canada.

The insect spends its winter in a cocoon, and the larvae can be found from June to October.

Since it emerged, the moth lives in a box which used to house a Sony tape deck. The moth has laid a number of eggs (which obviously won't be fertilized).

Because it laid the eggs, Cross doesn't expect it to live much longer. Still, he doesn't plan on ending its life early.

Collectors often use ether on the moths before pinning up the prize insects. "But I just don't have the heart to kill it," he says

Delta will run PineStone Inn

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Canada's largest privately-owned hotel chain has taken over the management of Haliburton County's largest resort.

Last Friday, Delta Hotels Ltd. announced that it had signed a long-term management contract for the PineStone Inn. The resort will continue to operate under its current name.

"Although Delta typically manages hotels under the Delta flag, both the owner and Delta felt it would be best to run the PineStone Resort and Conference Centre under its original name in order to capitalize on the reputation and ambiance its loyal customers have come to know," said Simon Cooper, president of Delta Hotels and Resorts. "We look forward to a long and prosperous relationship with the PineStone Resort and Conference Centre. This management contract gives us the opportunity to expand our urban and destination resort properties."

Joe Melara, president of One 2 One Corporation which owns PineStone, said the deal will give the resort a better position in the resort industry.

"We are very excited about our new partnership with Delta because, with Delta at the Helm, we know the PineStone Resort and Conference Centre will have access to new markets through a broader and more sophisticated distribution network," he said.

Delta manages 19 other hotel and resort properties in Canada, as well as resorts in Florida and Thailand. The company owns resorts in Whistler and Vancouver, B.C., Mississauga, Ont., and Orlando and Key Largo in Florida.

The 118-room PineStone, which has been called the flagship of Haliburton County's tourism industry, has suffered due to the decline in the market.

Last December, the resort closed its doors for the winter resulting in the temporary lay-off of almost 100 employees. The resort is scheduled to re-start operations in the spring with the recall of employees beginning at the end of March.

Council pursues school issue

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The struggle continues.

Despite the recent decision by the board of education's management committee not to re-examine its accommodation plans, Minden council is going to seek the support of other municipal councillors to have the issue reopened by the board.

Last Thursday, council met with Bryan Kernohan and Doug Campbell, two residents who have developed an alternate accommodation plan, to discuss strategy.

"I would like to express my disappointment that they (members of the management committee) haven't decided to look a little closer at the proposal," said Reeve Bern Berry.

Campbell and Kernohan both attended the March 4 meeting of the board's management committee. Campbell told council that he didn't think the committee members wanted to give the issue a fair hearing.

"The impression I had was that they'd made up their minds and they didn't want to be confused by facts," he said. Campbell also said he was "startled" by the committee reaction to a letter sent by Minden council.

The letter, signed by all councillors, encouraged the management committee to reopen the issue and examine the option prepared by Campbell and Kernohan.

At the committee meeting, Dysart trustee Wayne Wood said Minden council had overstepped its bounds by writing the letter to the board.

Campbell also took issue with Stanhope trustee LeRoy Eager's comments that the option developed by Campbell and Kernohan only dealt with positive aspects and didn't take into account many negative aspects.

Campbell said he and Kernohan used the Royal Canadian Legion public speaking contest

Students talk about pictures and peanut butter

School pictures, snowmobiling in the Highlands, peanut butter and dreams of baseball fame. These were just some of the topics chosen by the students of Archie Stouffer Elementary School in the Royal Canadian Legion public speaking contest. The finals in the junior and intermediate division were held Friday morning at the school. The winners will now advance to the regional competition next week in Fenelon Falls.

Ryan Dawson was the winner in the junior division delighting the audience with his memories of the trials and tribulations of picture day at the school. Ryan is a grade five student.

Grade eight student Dennis Woods took the senior division with a dissertation on his favourite food peanut butter.

Luke Lester, a grade six student placed second in the junior division with a speech on the positive aspects of snowmobiling in the Highlands. Third spot went to Kate Hemming who enlightened the audience about her brother Tim who has spina bifida. Kate is in grade four. Other competing in the junior division included grade five student Elizabeth Donnery and Justin Murray of grade four.

George Godfrey, of grade seven, placed second in the intermediate section with a humorous presentation on his dreams as a baseball player. Third place went to grade eight student Janene Garbutt who recounted the problems encountered by short people.

Speaking on behalf of the three adjudicators, Ruth Gorey told the parents and students that the presentations had all been well done and that in tallying the scores it was a close competition. She congratulated all the speakers for the effort they put into their presentations.

Branch 636 representative Dave McAdam and Lois Adamson, presented the youngsters with their prizes and certificates of participation.

Future tax increases will be tied to growth

Hodgson said that when provincially-mandated welfare costs are removed from the budget, the county has actually cut spending by 2.4 per cent from last year's levels.

In order to achieve these numbers, council has decided to delay any further work on the county official plan for one year.

The waste management master plan has also been suspended and the county will concentrate on reducing the amount of garbage going into land-fill sites through waste reduction and recycling efforts.

Hodgson also announced that the county is going to look into the possibility of uniting the county's economic development office with the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce.

Briefly touching on other departments, Hodgson said that council has "looked after Hyland Crest", and that the county will have "a good road system," although no specific figures were given.

Council has budgeted a 31 per cent increase in social service costs. The county is required by the province to pay 20 per cent of the local welfare role, which has grown to record amounts during the two years.

Hodgson thanked the staff and councillors for enduring the long budget process and also thanked Warden George Simmons for encouraging councillors to have a vision for the county's future.

He said council will set a direction in the next couple of years so there will be no sudden increase in the county budget, and to ensure that tax increases will be tied to the rate of growth.

Stanhope council will stay out of school issue

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

Stanhope council is unwilling to get involved in the school board's decision to build a junior high school in Haliburton Village.

At last Wednesday's council meeting, Deputy-Reeve Eleanor Harrison and Councilor Jim Hicks reported on a meeting they attended with other municipal councillors to discuss the school accommodation issue.

The meeting, which was organized by Minden council, included municipal politicians from Lutterworth, Stanhope, Snowdon, Sherborne et al and Minden. At the meeting, Minden residents Bryan Kernohan and Doug Campbell presented the option they have developed to alleviate overcrowding at local schools without busing Grade 7 and 8 students from Minden to Haliburton.

Harrison said she was glad she attended the meeting and said Kernohan and Campbell gave an excellent presentation of their proposal.

Minden council called the meeting to ask for the support of neighbouring municipalities in its quest to have the board of education reconsider its accommodation plan.

"They were after us to write a letter to support their letter," said Harrison. "They wanted it by the management meeting, but we didn't feel we could speak for the whole of council."

Harrison said she also felt it would be "jumping the gun" to comment without discussing the issue with Stanhope trustee LeRoy Eager.

In subsequent discussions with the trustee, Harrison said Eager told her that he supports the board's decision and that Kernohan and Campbell did had not taken all factors into account in their proposal.

Harrison said it doesn't seem like the school board is prepared to change its mind in spite of pressure from Minden.

"They don't seem to feel they have to answer to anyone," she said. "They seem to be a well-protected group of individuals."

But Harrison also said she isn't sure how involved municipal politicians should be in school board decisions and wondered how council would feel if the positions were reversed and the school board was criticizing a council decision.

Hicks said Kernohan and Campbell have put together an impressive proposal and he said the board should meet with them.

"From a public relations standpoint, the board owes it to the people of Minden to explain their position," he said. "They made a mistake at the Minden meeting. They presented their proposal and then gave the public only 15 minutes to ask questions."

Council discussed the possibility of meeting with Eager to talk about the accommodation issue, but decided against taking any further action.

Congratulations: Kinmount Legion President Al Jopling made it a point to attend the Kinmount Public School's Science Fair exhibit at the Legion on March 12 to offer his congratulations to three of the schools students who were zone winners of the Legion's Remembrance Day contests. They are, left to right: Robynne Kilby, who placed second in the Junior essay division and third in the junior poem class; Sue Ellen Crego, who was third in the senior colour poster division and Jeff Pearson, who was third in the junior black and white poster category.

Minden lobbying for support from county same information the board used in its four options, and that they experienced difficulty in getting additional information from the board.

Despite the frosty reception from the management committee, There is still a possibility that the issue has not been put to rest. Campbell said the management committee did not comply with the board's direction to examine the new proposal, and there is a chance the board will send the matter back to the management committee at the March 24 meeting.

In an effort to plan council's next move, Berry suggested that a meeting be arranged with municipal politicians from across Haliburton County to lobby their support and explain the need for fiscal restraint and proper planning. He also suggested involving MPP Dennis Drainville and the Ministry of Education in the matter.

The meeting is being planned for tonight

(Monday) at the Minden municipal office. Invitations to the meeting were to be handed out to reeves and deputy-reeves at last Friday's county budget meeting.

Kernohan said it would be premature to involve Drainville or the education ministry at this point. He said he still has faith that the trustees will reconsider their decision once they have more information on the issue.

Saying there seems to support for Minden's position among residents in Haliburton Village, as expressed in a recent editorial in the Echo, Campbell said the school accommodation issue provides an opportunity for Dysart and Minden councils to work together to put pressure on the school board and "hopefully erode the foolishness that has gone on between the two villages."

"I really appreciate the effort you people have put forth," Berry said to Campbell and Kernohan. "I look forward to our day in court."

Group still working toward night helipad

The following update was prepared by the organizing committee of the Sandy Bannon Memorial Fund.

We are all very excited about the upcoming Benefit Dance to be held at the Minden Community Center, March 21.

We have a live band playing, The Rabid Dogs, and the theme is the 60's, peace and fun. fun, fun. Teens are welcome to come and we have a great group of teens that are helping out with the running of the dance, along with a great group of adults who have also volunteered. Many gifts have been donated by various Highland's merchants and will be given as door prizes and raffled off.

We are also holding a raffle, to be drawn on May 18, and the prizes are a 28" color stereo TV, a 4 head VCR and compact disc player. Tickets for this raffle will be sold at the dance and are also being sold at various Highland's merchant's stores.

But how are we doing so far? Because of the support we had by area merchants and our donation boxes, cottager's associations, service groups and personal donations through the Gord Monk Funeral Home, we now stand at just over $13,000. We thank all of you, not only for donating, but also for lending us space in your stores. Those persons that requested receipts should be receiving them now. These are being issued through the St. Joseph's General Hospital Foundation.

We also have been given the future support of the Kinsmen Club of their personal equipment and expertise in building the heliport. St. Joseph's General Hospital has been helping us in securing the specifications for building the heliport and we have night reflectors at the existing pad in Minden, which are a temporary solution.

Although this fund was started from a tragic situation, we are very proud to be residents of the Haliburton Highlands. The community spirit is wonderful and everyone seems to want the same thing as far as health care goes. When the two hospitals have a need for something there is always a service club, church group or group of concerned residents who band together to work to achieve these goals.

Let's face it, the Ministry of Health has no money and lots of excuses, and unless we do it ourselves, it just won't get done, or it will take so long that we could be dead before we see any change or growth.

Bravo Highlanders! Together we will see another project through to completion.

For those of you who may be hearing about this Memorial Fund for the first time, it began a few days after 17 year old Sandy Bannon was shot during a domestic situation and could not be flown to a hospital from Minden Hospital because the helicopters would not land at night in Minden. She bled to death before they could get her transported to Lindsay Hospital. We want every person who has been injured or sick to have the best opportunity to reach a facility that can handle their trauma and are raising funds to build a permanent lighted heliport landing facility at the Minden Hospital.

Any monies raised over and above what we need will be used for Emergency Services throughout the County. We hope to send out a questionnaire to all doctors, nurses, firemen and departments, hospitals and the ambulance personnel to determine what they feel is the highest priority for the Highlands. This then can be used by us and services clubs etc. in the area to determine what we are able to do to help our Health Care people.

We hope to hold more fund raisers in the summer to help us reach our goal.

The fund will be used to install permanent night landing lights at a helipad to serve the Minden Hospital. Contributions can be made through donation boxes located in most businesses in the area. Those wishing to mail a contribution can do so by sending their cheque or money order to: Sandy Bannon Memorial Fund, c/o Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Box 427, Minden, Ontario. Donations have been received from cottage associations, individuals and organizations. A fund raising dance is planned for March 21 and a number of raffles are also in the works.

Dysart council briefs

by Susan Grober

The following matters were discussed during the March 9 meeting of Dysart council.

Blue boxes

Council will apply for funding to purchase 6,400 blue boxes.

If the application is accepted, Dysart would pay one-third of the cost, with the rest equally shared by the Ministry of Environment and with OMMRI (Ontario Recycling Initiative).

Reeve Chris Hodgson told council the blue boxes will hopefully encourage people to recycle at home, by making it easier to sort and separate recycleable goods.

Councillor Lloyd Leadbeater said he's happy to support the application, but wants more information on whether the recycling program "is worth it".

The councillors also discussed the importance of crushing cans before placing them in the recycling bins, and Councillor Robert Heinze said the association of Haliburton Lake cottagers has been instructed to do so in its newsletter.

Dump stickers

The municipality will purchase 7,500 stickers at 20 cents each to easily identify people in Dysart who are permitted to use the landfill sites.

Because many people have more than one vehicle, a record will be kept of each person who receives the lime green stickers, which attach to the windshield.

"You have to be very careful with how you distribute those things," warned Councillor Brian Watts. "Every Tom, Dick and Harry will want one... People will give them to their friends."

Dump hours

Hours of operation for the Haliburton landfill site have been changed, in response to complaints from contractors and residents that weekday morning hours were cut out to cut costs.

Council agreed to the following hours: Saturday and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Monday, closed; Tuesday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.;

Wednesday, 8 a.m. to 12 noon; Thursday, 1 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In previous years, the landfill sites were open all day, seven days a week. However, Ministry of Environment guidelines now require that the sites be manned by a landfill attendant during all hours of operation.

BIA boundaries

Haliburton's BIA (Business Improvement Area) wants to expand its boundaries.

The group of Haliburton Village business owners have applied to expand the boundaries to include Highland Street, to Whitfield's Plumbing, and Maple Street, to the Harvest Restaurant.

Business owners within this new area will be contacted by the BIA for input. There will be a period of two months for any objections.

Water fee

Council strongly objects to the possible implementation of a fee for the use of water from wells and lakes.

County Planner Mark Stagg has contacted all clerks in the county about a proposed strategy to foster efficient water use.

Stagg is gathering information from each municipality to forward a response to the matter. So Dysart passed a resolution to allow its voice to be heard against the proposal.

Reeve Chris Hodgson said the proposal discriminates against people living in rural Ontario. "We're not all on municipal water systems," he said, adding there are many questions to be answered.

"It's just another form of taxation," said Councillor Robert Heinze.

Sunday shopping

Council has yet to finalize a bylaw in accordance with new provincial Sunday shopping guidelines.

Businesses will be required to apply to the municipality next year to operate on Sunday and common pause days. Those which occupy less than 2,400 square feet will be permitted to make a single group application. Larger businesses will have to make individual applications.

Three honoured for service

by Susan Grober

Three Minden residents enjoyed a bright spot during last Tuesday's dull, rainy weather when they were honoured for their dedication to the community.

Winners of the IGA/CKLY Hometown Proud Awards were announced last week by Dave Dollo and CKLY morning man Ron Marshall.

Certificates were presented to Norman Wallace, for volunteering in community and church activities, Janice Shaw, for her willingness to help others in need, and to United Church Minister Rev. Ed Moll, for his willingness to help and listen to others in need.

Wallace was thrilled with the award. "I think it's wonderful," he said.

Rev. Moll said he was surprised to hear he won. "I didn't know what it was at first," he said of the award. "I felt very honoured to be nominated."

Shaw said CKLY and IGA should be commended for coming up with the idea for the award.

"It was a real surprise for myself," she said. "I never would have imagined getting anything like this. It really brightens up the winter."

Marshall said CKLY devised the idea for the awards after learning of IGA's Hometown Proud campaign theme. "We just thought we'd turn it up a little by coming up with the award," he said.

Members of the community made their award nominations through a ballot box kept at Dollo's.

Along with the certificates, the three winners won free dinners at the Dynasty Restaurant.

What a difference a year makes.

This time last year, county council was on the verge of approving a 35 per cent increase in the county levy, a move which prompted the formation of the local taxpayers coalition and has since had a profound effect on local politics.

Now, just 12 months and one election later, the council has set a budget which set two important precedents.

First, councillors did the unthinkable by actually reducing the amount of money spent on locally-controlled expenditures as compared to last year.

Second, council opened its budget deliberations to public scrutiny and input, providing advance details of each department's spending estimates and accepting submissions from the public.

The resulting bottom line is a low calorie budget and a tax increase of just 4.85 per cent - an increase which wouldn't be necessary if not for the sky-rocketing cost of welfare payments which the county is required by law to pay.

And the most significant aspect of the budget story is management committee chairman Chris Hodgson's statement that the county is set a direction which will avoid any sudden increases in taxes and tie budget increases to the rate of growth in the county.

Ironically, county expenditures, which have attracted so much attention and been subject to such soul searching, represent the smallest portion of local tax bills, behind the board of education and local municipalities.

Let's hope the new fiscal philosophy adopted by the county is contagious and makes its presence felt when the other 11 budgets are passed in the next couple of months, because there is a danger that other levels of government will view the county's austere budget as an opportunity to take up the slack with their own levies.

Instead of claiming victory, residents of Haliburton County should increase their vigilance to ensure that the other 88 per cent of their tax dollars are treated with as much respect.

Olympics marred by drugged athletes and silly sports

I realize that it's heresy, but I'm going to say it anyway: the Winter Olympics are over and I'm glad.

It's not that I'm a sports curmudgeon. I'm pleased that Kerrin Lee Whatsername won herself a gold medal. My heartstrings went as zingy as any other Canucks when Sean Burke put the leg scissors on that final shot to win the Germany-Team Canada shootout.

It's all very thrilling but it's just getting too hard to take the Olympics - winter or summer - seriously any more. As a Sports Spectacle, you bet. As a Muscle Extravaganza, to be sure.

But as an impartial gathering of the world's best amateurs competing on a level playing field under an unblemished nimbus of fair play and justice? Get serious.

The Olympics are - there is not nice way to say this - fixed. Any semi-conscious viewer watching the Figure Skating finals couldn't help but see nationalistic judges shamelessly loading their ballots for the Home Town Kids.

There's even favoritism within Teams. Kurt Browning skated like a wino lashed to banana skins and still placed sixth. Elvis Stojko delivered the most technically flawless performance of the Olympics, but Elvis is still a rookie on the international scene. They dumped him in seventh place.

But Olympic officials have been hiding their eyes from improprieties for years. Look at those women's swim teams the East Germans used to send.

They looked like U Boats in bathing suits.

It was a standing joke that the Russian contingent had a floating drug store anchored off Korea for the Seoul Olympics. An entire naval vessel crammed to the gunwales with doctors, pills and sundry pharmaceuticals all for the purpose of whipping up chemical booster shots to help the Soviet competitors go faster, farther, higher in ways that wouldn't show up on Olympic drug rap sheets.

Did the Olympic Overlords have any suspicions? Land sakes, Scarlett, how could you even suggest such a thing?

This is, the Olympics have always been a bit of a shuck. Take the marathon. The legend goes that the big race is

School and community should not be separated

Editor:

As a retired school principal I have been following with great interest the current decision and debates regarding the school accommodation planned for Haliburton County.

I would like to present a different perspective to a problem which is common in all areas experiencing population growth, i.e. boundary changes.

The most difficult challenge of my career was when I was assigned the "privilege" of opening one of the early open area schools in Peel County. This new and different school also involved a boundary change for an established school area and some new bus-ing requirements. needless to say, this created a large group of unhappy parents. Sound familiar?

The success of any school be it large or small, open concept or "conventional", K-8, K-6, Sr. Public, Junior High - whatever, is determined by many factors. First and foremost is the dedications and quality of the staff. Also high on the list, I believe, is parent support for the school. Parent support for a new school must be earned over a period of time and it is in this respect that the staff of the new "Option 4" school in Haliburton Village will have a much more difficult.

My experience was that to overcome the boundary, busing and open concept hostility, took a great deal of extra time and effort on the part of the school staff and Board administrators. It was a battle we won in the end but not without a great drain on all those involved.

Knowing the quality and dedication of Haliburton County's teachers and administrators, I am confident that our children will receive an excellent education no matter which option is chosen - but if I had a say, I'd vote for a locations where the school and community are not separated. This promotes a community school board which makes it much easier to develop a more "user friendly" educational environment.

Native issues show lack of understanding and racial myths

Editor:

The fearmongering campaign currently being mounted against Native concerns and rights in Ontario is based largely on myths of racial superiority, not on any real understanding of non-sport hunting and fishing communities, or their needs.

Conservation lobby groups are no longer at the rudder steering the Ministry of Natural Resources policies. Certainly the 'Ontario Round Table on Environment and the Economy' process of consultation is a huge stride toward fairer representation for anyone who is concerned with resource management.

An agreement signed August 6, 1991 at Mount McKay between Premier Bob Rae and twelve First Nation Chiefs made Ontario the first province in Canada to acknowledge Native's rights to self government. This right to self government would be meaningless without the appropriate access to and proper management of resources needed by native peoples in order for them to be self sufficient.

Fate of plan was expected

The decision by county council last Friday to place the county official plan in limbo will come as no surprise to anyone who has been keeping track of the local political climate.

While it was by no means an easy decision to suspend a program in which the county has already invested hundreds of thousands of dollars, there have been harbingers of the move for the past two years.

While past warden and reeve of Lutterworth Carol Puffer was a strong supporter of the official plan, as is present warden George Simmons, opposition has come from the councils of Dysart et al and Anson, Hindon and Minden. The two municipalities are the two largest in the county and, along with Cardiff, are the only ones to have their own official plans.

Two years ago, the county decided to develop a two-tier official plan. This would involve a general document which would cover the entire county with each of the 10 municipalities each adopting their own, more specific, official plans.

Some politicians in Minden and Dysart believe the county plan should wait until after all municipalities have adopted their own plans. Given the expense and complex process involved in developing official plans, waiting for the other 7 municipalities would delay the county plan well into the next decade.

There were also concerns about the relationship between the county plan and the three existing plans, and whether the county would end up interfering in local municipal planning decisions.

The official plan might have become an "untouchable" priority if there had been strong public support for the proposal - but that didn't happen.

Public meetings designed to inform and involve residents were poorly attended, and a questionnaire distributed by the county planning department also failed to grab the public's attention.

In fact, the county plan and the planning department became favourite targets of the Haliburton County Taxpayers Coalition which was formed in the wake of last year's 35 per cent increase in the county levy.

Members of the coalition have said the plan should wait for better economic times, any county restructuring which may take place and a final report from the Sewell Commission on planning and development.

Proponents of the plan argued that the plan could proceed and easily be amended to reflect changes in municipal boundaries or provincial planning policy. They also said a county plan would reduce the involvement of the province in local planning matters and would clear the way for the development of those municipalities without their own official plans.

During last November's election campaign, the Coalition polled candidates on their attitudes toward the county official plan.

When the ballots had been counted, a majority of the successful candidates felt the county official should not be a priority at this time, although many also said that such a document will be necessary and desirable once the economy recovers.

Perhaps the final straw was the reduction of expected support from the provincial government. When the county first started down the path to an official plan, councillors were counting on the Ministry of Municipal Affairs picking up 50 per cent of the bill. Recently, the county has learned that the ministry will only fund up to a maximum of $50,000 over the life of the project.

With an estimated cost of between $400,000 to $500,000, a reduction of funding amounting to $200,000 was undoubtedly a factor in the decision to put the plan on hold.

What remains to be seen is the effect the county decision will have. With the official plan on hold, and the proposed amalgamation of the economic development office with the Chamber of Commerce, the future of county planner, and economic development officer, Mark Stagg is in doubt.

Also in doubt is whether county council, with the thorny issue of the county plan out of the way, will be able to muster the political will to revive the plan in the future.

And if the plan is revived, what will happen to the work which has been completed to date? Will it still be valid or will the county have to start from square one?

If provincial support for the plan has dropped from 50 per cent to 10 per cent in the last two years, how much funding can the county expect if the plan is revived?

While it's evident council has reflected the will of the electorate in not pursuing the plan at this time, residents of the county should ask themselves what has been lost for the sake of a "politically correct" budget.

From speed skiing and lugging to naked bungee jumping exactly 26 miles, 385 years long, because that represents the precise distance from the Greek village of Marathon to the stadium in Athens - a route a heroic Athenian messenger was supposed to have run back in ancient times to bring news of an important military victory.

The truth is, that nobody knows exactly how far the Athenian jogger actually ran, so for years the Olympic race was set at about 25 miles.

Then, in 1908 the games were held in London. The Brits decided to start the race at Windsor Castle and to have the finish line at White City stadium - exactly 26 miles. The day of the race was exceptionally hot and humid, so the starting line was moved back to a shady grove of trees so that Queen Alexandra and the royal grandkiddies would be comfortable. Exact distance to the grove: 385 years. And THAT'S how the distance of the marathon came to be.

But it's not just the hype and the pretence surrounding The Games that's got to me. It's the Games themselves.

They're getting sillier and sillier.

Look at some of the events they expect grown adults to sit down and watch. The Luge. Falling down a tube of ice wearing a funny-looking suit that's three sizes too small, right?

Speed skiing. SPEED skiing??? For the past twenty years

I've been watching, what - SLOTH skiing?

And what about this year's demonstration sport - curling?

Aw, come on gang. No doubt leaning on a broom and throwing rocks up and down a sheet of ice is as good a way as any to work up a thirst and beat the February Blahs, but as an Olympic sport?

Can you seriously envision Socrates, beard over his shoulder, sliding along on one knee, Plato and Aristotle wisking away to a Greek chorus singing "Sweep, sweep!"

Have a care, you Olympic decision makers. Today, curling. Tomorrow, Naked Bungee Jumping.

The Minden Hospital was presented with a defibrillator, donated by both the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 636 and the Ladies Auxiliary. In attendance were, from left: Sergeant At Arms Ken Walsh, Ladies Auxiliary President Laurey Roodenburg, President Dave McAdam, Senior Chairman Mel Robertson, Nursing Administrator Jean Anderson, and Dr. Antony Holliday-Rhodes.

Legion gives hospital a defibrillator

by Susan Grober

A recent donation to Minden Hospital is anything but a heart stopper.

Last Thursday, a defibrillator was donated by both the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 636 and the Ladies Auxiliary.

"It'll bring a person whose heart has stopped back to life," Legion President Dave McAdam said of the machine, adding that part of the money used to cover its $9,200 cost came from the Legion's poppy fund.

"It's going to be very important in helping us save lives," said Dr. Antony Holliday-Rhodes. "If people have cardiac arrest and their heart stops beating, we can use this machine to start the heart again."

The defibrillator has a variety of uses. Along with re-starting a heartbeat, it also acts a heart monitor and an electrocardiograph, and gives a tape read-out. Because it will work either by battery or electric current, the machine is portable.

Holliday-Rhodes said the hospital already has similar equipment, which he has used on several occasions.

"This just updates our equipment and gives us a reliable machine for transport," said hospital Nursing Administrator Jean Anderson.

Dr. Holliday-Rhodes said he knows of at least three occurrences where the use of a defibrillator was instrumental in saving a life.

Mel Robertson, who is the Legion's senior chairman and the chairman of seniors for District F, said the machinery is important in an area like Haliburton County, which has a large population of seniors.

"A lot of people come up here for retirement, and they are subject to heart attacks," said Robertson. "If we don't have this equipment, we can't take care of these people."

Group wants Eagle Lake named Rhubarb Capital

by Susan Grober

A group of local women want to have Eagle Lake declared the Rhubarb Capital of Ontario.

The Eagle Lake Women's Association would like to start the venture by publishing a cookbook of rhubarb recipes, and carry on with a rhubarb festival, rhubarb tee-shirts, rhubarb products, and even a rhubarb slalom day at Sir Sam's Ski Hill.

"Everybody is very excited about it at Eagle Lake," representative Sharon Lynch told Dysart council at its March 9 meeting, after doling out servings of a tart rhubarb punch (made of equal parts rhubarb juice and ginger ale).

Lynch said rhubarb has many positive qualities: it grows profusely, freezes well, and acts as a natural laxative.

After presenting council with a petition signed by about 60 people supporting the move, Lynch noted a number of local businesses are interested in the idea of selling rhubarb products, such as preserves.

"There are a lot of products you can make with rhubarb," said Lynch. "It's very versatile."

Lynch said the Chamber of Commerce has also supported the marketing idea.

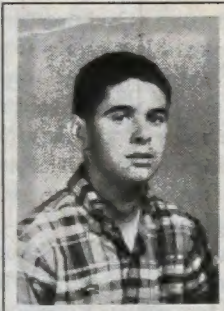

Clerk Donna McCallum suggested the group check to make sure there isn't already another rhubarb capital.

Pearsons take top honours at science fair

by Jerry Grozelle

The projects from this year's Kinmount Public School Science Fair were judged on March 12.

The projects were on display at the Kinmount Legion for students and parents to view the handiwork. Alan Thompson, Secretary of the Kinmount Lions Club, and his wife Doris were on hand to present plaques to the top three projects in the two classes - Junior and Intermediate. The Lions Club provided the plaques for the winners.

The top project in the Junior division was Jeff Pearson's.

Jeff's entry was called Electricity In Nature. Second in the Junior category went to the team of Julie Windrum and Robynne Kilby. Their project was entitled Light Projector. Magnetism was the theme of the third place entry in the Junior division. That project was prepared by Joshua Bales and Matthew Buzzell. Chris Everingham's Zebra Mussels entry earned an honourable mention.

The Intermediate division winner was Carrie Pearson with her project entitled Why Wetlands? Second among the Intermediates was the duo of Aaron Belton and Marty Dettman, with their project Comparative Study. Terry King's Commercial Ads earned the third place plaque in the Intermediate class and Jennifer Trudell received an honourable mention for her project called Freezing Seeds.

Alan Thompson congratulated all of the entrants for their hard work and offered some hope for next year, in spite of the fact that the Kinmount school will be closed. He told the youngsters that the Lions Club is planning to have a Science Fair for the young people of the Kinmount area next year even without the school. The event will be arranged in co-operation with the Kinmount Legion.

"We'll be here for them," said Legion President Al Jopling.

Cabbies comment on Dysart taxi by-law

by Susan Grober

Local taxi drivers have been given the opportunity to comment on Dysart council's proposal to set cab fees.

Included in plans to revise its taxi bylaw, council has proposed to implement meters, and to set a flat rate of $2 plus $1 for each kilometre. A number of cab drivers turned out to last Monday's meeting to voice their opinions on the matter — and not all agree.

"We want to see the competition based on service, not on price," Reeve Chris Hodgson explained to the cab drivers.

Lyle Bacon, of Erik's Taxi, was opposed to the suggested rate, saying it is much too high.

"You don't set the prices for groceries or restaurants, so why us?" he asked. "If prices go up, people won't be able to afford them."

Bacon said he often adjusts his prices for certain customers. "We give seniors a special rate," he said. "They should be respected. If the price goes up for them as well as everybody else, what are they going to do?"

Regular customers going into town also receive a special rate, said Bacon, adding: "It must help the stores in town if they come often. Furthermore, we should have the right to reward the loyalty of regular customers."

Bacon said one customer who gets a ride to work at Eagle Lake has "indicated to me if the prices go up, he won't be able to afford to go to work."

Bacon said he tries to keep his rates as low as possible, while still being able to survive.

"I want to make a profitable business the same as everybody else, but with the economy the way it is, I don't think there should be an increase in rates," he said.

Presenting council with a petition signed by customers who oppose the set rates, Bacon said: "It's not the meter I'm against, but the rate is much too high for people to pay. I don't think we should impose any more hardship on them."

Currently, Bacon charges $7 for a trip to Haliburton Village from West Guilford, but the suggested new rates would up the price to $15.

"There and back, that's $30," he said. "For someone on UIC or welfare, they just couldn't afford to go to town."

To explain the reasoning behind council's proposal to set a flat rate, Hodgson said: "We're trying to get it so everybody knows what the price is. So if a senior or somebody steps into the cab, they know how much to expect to pay."

Bacon said most who phone for a cab ask how much the trip will cost.

The proprietors of two other taxi companies agreed with the set price, saying anything lower would hardly help them cover operating costs.

"What you've got is good," Hans Pripp, of Pripp's Taxi, told council of the proposed rate.

Pripp's son, Jack, said it's difficult for cab companies to offer discounts when they must cover high costs for insurance and gasoline.

"Those prices stay consistent and are always bound to increase," he said. "It's not everybody who has to pay $3,000 for a car every six months to keep it insured. That's quite an expense, especially in the winter when it's slow."

"To slash the rates any more than now would be suicide," he said.

Basil Boice, of Hyland Taxi, agreed with the meter idea, and said he feels all cab companies should charge the same rate.

Break and Enters

During the early morning hours of Saturday, March 7, four businesses were entered by an unknown person. The I.G.A., Legion, Curling Club and Arena were all entered using a pry bar.

Damage to these places is estimated at over $2000. Stolen during the break and enters was cash of a value less than $400.

Assault

Gerald Bull, age 44, of Minden has been charged with assault causing bodily harm after police were called to the residence during the evening hours of March 6.

And no matter what the rates, both Pripps were in favour of implementing meters.

"There's got to be no unfair advantage for one (company) or the other," said Jack.

Hans noted that a Minden cab company owner is upset with Minden council's decision to toss out its taxi bylaw altogether. He provided Dysart councillors with a copy of a Times article reporting on the matter.

Council said it will consider all sides before making its final decision on the revised bylaw at a later date.

Hartwick and Stamp will face off in best of three series for League final

The dust has settled and the victors have emerged from the fray. Now its down to the final three games to determine whether Hartwick Construction or Sid Stamp Fuels will inherit the Men's Recreational Hockey League championship.

Hartwick had always held a firm but not unassailable position at the top of the league during the round robin play-offs. They had finished the season tied for second spot with The Times. A record of two wins and two ties during the tightly played play-offs, was capped with 4-2 win over Westside Jug City last Monday. That win nailed down the top spot and guaranteed Hartwick one of the two places in the final play-off round.

The loss collapsed Westside's all but tenuous possibility of securing the second spot in the play-off.

A Herculean effort by The Times, in the second contest of the evening, pushed the team into a potential tie position with Sid Stamp Fuels for the second play-off position. The Times swept over Kountry Double D Catering 10-1.

While the win gave The Times a tie with Stamps on play-off points, the fuelers still held a two goal edge in the (goals for, less goals against) tie-breaking formula. So unless Stamps went down to a three goal, or greater, loss The Times was out of the play-off action.

As it turned out, the fancy mathematics was not required. Sid Stamp Fuels put Home Hardware nicely in its place with a 5-3 win and secured the second play-off berth by virtue of their point total.

Sid MacKeigan led the charge for Hartwick Construction with a two goal effort in the opening game last Monday. Jeff Stamp assisted on both the markers and notched an unassisted effort as well. The fourth Hartwick goal was scored by Barry Boice. Colin Wilson picked up an assist.

Mike Hartwick and Jerry Campbell were the goal scores for Westside, with Hartwick also picking up an assist. Other assists were credited to Ed Gibbons and Scott Danilko.

Rob Crowe was in net for Hartwick while Ron Telford stood guard for Westside.

Craig Crowe was the big gun for The Times scoring half of the team's ten goals. Ivan Ingram notched a pair and three assists, with singles from Derek Allison and Derek Moore and an unidentified player. Assists went to Bern Berry and Moore with three each, Derek Allison and Kelly Giles with a pair and a single from Frazer Rogers.

Corey Walker scored the lone Kountry Double D goal with Tim Hunter and Scot Hamilton getting the assists.

Newfer Burk was in net for The Times while Duane Lennie was the Double D goaltender.

Ted Vasey and Larry Sawyer scored a pair of goals each to lead the Sid Stamp

Fuel team to their win over Home Hardware and the second play-off position. Vasey also picked up two assists in the drive. The other goal came from Joachim Matyssek. Picking up assists were Doug Schell and Andy Campbell with a pair, and single from Shawn Gilligan, Bart

Hillhorst and Dave Pettes.

Dean Hewitt, Carey Gilligan and Gary Harrison scored for Home Hardware with Harrison connecting on an unassisted effort. Gilligan picked up an assist on one of the other markers while two assists went to Dave Rogers.

The final, best of three, play-offs begin tonight. Hartwick Construction and Sid Stamp Fuels take to the ice at 8 p.m. in the opening game. Admission to the contest is free.

Minden pair going to All-Ontario event

Two Minden skaters have made it to the All-Ontario competition in Pickering on March 22.

Julie Vanderlip and Tristan Pawluch, who skate in the preliminary mixed dance competition, placed third at the recent Eastern Ontario Skating Sectionals Inter-club Competition in Lindsay, and the result was good enough for the team to qualify for Pickering.

This will be the second year that Tristan and Julie have qualified for the All-Ontario event. Last year the competed in the pre-preliminary division.

Under the guidance of coach David Hollows, Julie and Tristan work out three nights a week in Minden and also participate in a dance and pairs program in Lindsay on Sunday mornings.

Other results from local skaters include;

Krista Matysek placed 8th in the pre-preliminary ladies' competition;

Tristan Pawluch placed 4th in the preliminary men's freeskate competition and will be an alternate for the

All-Ontario event;

Tristan Pawluch and Katrina Matysek placed 5th

in the preliminary mixed pairs' freeskate competition; Louise Howell and Matthew Reid placed 8th in the mixed pairs' freeskate competition.

Pairs competitors Tristan Pawluch and Julie Vanderlip, show here with coach Dave Hollows.

Algonquin ski trails will be open for mountain bikes

"Carving ski tracks on the Minnesing Cross Country Ski Trail through a winter wonderland of snow is one way to enjoy Algonquin.

But once the snow melts, the Minnesing Trail will become a mountain biking adventure", Ernie Martelle, Park Superintendent and District Manager of Algonquin Provincial Park has announced.

The Minnesing Bike Trail, located on Highway 60 at kilometre 21, is named for the historic Minnesing Road which ran from the Highland Inn on Cache Lake to Minnesing Lodge on Burnt Island Lake.

The trail itself consists of three loops, with distances of 4.7, 10.1 and 17.1 kilometres. All 3 loops are rated at a moderate level of difficulty. Cabins are located at the start of the trail and on the return run of the second loop. The trail passes through mostly hardwood, with views of three lakes along the route.

For the 1992 season, the trail will be open around the middle of June up to and including Thanksgiving Weekend (condition of trail permitting).

Martelle notes that "Visitors planning to use the new bike trail should be aware of all park regulations and those specifically applicable to the bike trail itself."

Use of the bike trail system is covered by your Provincial Park Summer Annual Permit or by a Daily Vehicle Permit payable at the East or West Gates. Your permit must be displayed on the dash of your vehicle. A new brochure is being produced and will be available on request from Algonquin Park District Office.

March 7, 1 mm of mixed rain fell with a pH level of 3.8 and the air path was from Western Pennsylvania/Eastern Ohio/West Virginia.

Environmental damage to lakes and streams is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Levels below 4.0 are serious.

Federal laws designed to make Canada a safer country

We have a plan to make Canada safer. Last fall we introduced new laws to improve public safety in this nation. Here is an update on changes we have made.

Parole

Our parole system is being overhauled.

- Bill C-36, introduced on October 8, 1991, tightens parole requirements, makes the parole process more flexible and gives victims more input into parole decisions. It makes public protection the most important part of parole decisions.

- The bill will make the law tougher on violent than non-violent offenders. Under existing laws, violent offenders who are likely to commit new violent crimes may be kept in prison for their entire sentence. The bill adds serious drug offenses and sex offenses against children to this category.

- Victims of a crime will be formally recognized in the parole process. Victim's input will be taken into account at parole hearings. Upon request, the victim will be updated on the prisoner's parole status.

Extradition

- It took years to send fugitives from American justice, like Charles Ng, back to the United States. Bill C-31 will reduce delays in extradition cases. Right now, extradition cases pass through two sets of appeals. Years may pass before a final decision is made. This bill gives fewer

Report from Ottawa

from the office of Bill Scott, MP avenues for appeal and a shorter time period within which those appeals may be heard. Extradition cases will be heard and decided upon more quickly and fairly.

- A clear message will be sent with this bill: Canada is not a haven for fugitives.

Rape Shield

- Bill C-49 was introduced into the House of Commons on December 12, 1991. It replaces the "rape shield" section of the Criminal Code, struck down by the Supreme Court of Canada last August.

- The bill limits how a rape victim's sexual history is used in court, while making sure the accused gets a fair trial. It also defines, for the first time ever in law, consent to sexual activity as a "voluntary agreement". This bill makes it clear that "no" means "no".

Young Offenders

- Bill C-12 will make it easier for courts to move young people charged with murder to adult court. The judge must decide whether or not to transfer the youth, balancing public protection with that youth's needs.

- This bill has passed through the House of Commons and is now before the Senate.

Gun Control

When Bill C-17 received Royal Assent on December 5, 1991 Canada was given a gun control law ranking among the best in the world. It respects people's access to firearms while enhancing public safety. This bill:

- Raises the minimum age to buy or own a firearm from sixteen to eighteen

- Strengthens the procedure for background checks before applicant can obtain a FAC

- Increases sentences.

This law gives us strong and effective gun control. It will come into effect keeping the needs of legitimate recreational users in mind.

Contraventions Act

- The way we deal now with minor offenses costs the Canadian taxpayer dearly. The Criminal Code treats all offenses - minor and major - the same. All must go to court, even if it is just to plead guilty.

- Bill C-46, introduced into the House of Commons December 9, 1991, allows tickets to be issued for minor federal offenses, like littering in a federal park. The court system will be able to spend more time hearing serious offenses, thus improving law enforcement.

Residents enjoy game of True or False

Saturday was spent as usual doing very little. Sunday was different. It began when Brandon, my adopted granddaughter, phoned to see if it was alright for her to visit me. Then I found out that was the time we were stuffing envelopes for Easter Seals. Jean Taylor, Nora Groves, May Horsely, Ellen Bastien and myself soon had the envelopes done. Evelyn and another couple helped. Before we finished, my grandson Rick phoned to tell me he would like to come and see me for awhile.

Rev. John Burgess held the Sunday evening Chapel Service with Alice Jones playing the organ. We thank them both very much.

Monday, we had Bible Study with Evelyn Coleman. The ladies appreciate this greatly and thank her.

Hyland Crest Auxiliary held their February meeting that afternoon with a good attendance and it was a very successful meeting led by the president Molly McCarthy.

Fern Donnelly and Pat Bradbury showed the movies "Toller Cranston" and "Trent Severn Seasons" for which we thank them.

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

Tuesday afternoon Chapel Service was conducted by Louise Leonard with all the residents thanks. During the afternoon we made St. Patrick's Day decorations and Dianna Morris came for reading from 6 p.m. until 7 p.m. We were glad to have Dianna back for reading again.

Wednesday afternoon we divided into two sides "A" and "B" for a game of True or False. The residents really enjoyed this game.

Thursday, I went to Peterborough with Terry and Norma Barnum. I visited my sister, May Cameron and Ray and did some shopping.

The Martha group, U.C.W. came with the Tea Party Thursday. We thank these ladies for a delicious tea served by Maude Coulter, Pat Bradburn, Mary Parrell, Bea Berry, Wilma Gemmell and Elva Deacon.

Friday, Happy Hour was held in the auditorium. The entertainment was by Bill Payne and Eldon Deacon of the Grandfathers Four or Five, but two were in Florida and one in Oshawa because of the storm. By special request, Linda sang a couple of songs and then Linda and Doris sang a duet. The volunteers were Don and Ellen Holden, Jankie Thomas and Mary Guillemin, whom we couldn't do without. The residents sincerely thank you all.

Sunday, March 1 Chapel was taken by Rev. John Burgess, with Alice playing the organ, and we thank them heartily.

After the Chapel Service our quiet time before bedtime lunch was shattered when the fire alarm suddenly went off. Those of us able to move were soon in the Trillium Lounge and the nursing staff moved everyone from bed care area to safety in next to no time. They did a super job of it. After the fire department arrived we soon learned that moisture from the roof had caused a short that set off the alarm.

Monday was Bible Study with Evelyn Coleman, thank-you Evelyn.

Being the first Monday of the month we had Resident's Council. We had reports from each committee and a report from Rheta Jones, Administrator, explaining the progress of our new wash-room facilities. It is not a luxury or sauna, but a necessity. Doris Robertson outlined our activities for March.

Allan and Ruth Rice showed the movies Monday evening, "Legend of Firefly Marsh" and "Mom's On Strike". Thanks Allan and Ruth.

Tuesday Chapel Service was a Communion Service conducted by Rev. Brian Parker and the residents thank him sincerely.

At noon, Doris Robertson took a bus load of walking residents to have lunch at Grannie's Fish & Chips. Everyone enjoyed the lunch. Just getting out did us all good. Mary Oliver went, but didn't get out of the bus. Her granddaughter stayed on the bus with her. Thanks to Doris Robertson, Linda Fry, Jean

More notes from Hyland Crest

Balt and Mable Deacon for your excellent care of us all.

Wednesday, Nora Groves, Winnie Barnum and Doris Robertson sewed safety pins to St. Patrick decorations while other residents entertained themselves with synonyms and twin words.

In the evening, Pastor Murray and members of his church met in the Trillium Lounge for a service. Thanks to all.

Thursday was Tea Party again, provided and served graciously by the ladies of Minden Anglican Church. I was in Peterborough again and missed the tea. Doris Robertson entertained with music and a sing song. Mrs. Lillian Curry who is 103 sang every song word for word, from memory. From all reports it was a lovely time and we thank the ladies heartily.

Thursday evening was bingo and Nancy and Troy

Briggs called and helped those who needed it. A special thank you to Nancy and Troy. I didn't realize you lived between Pine and Cranberry Lakes, which means a long drive.

Friday was a day of prayer all around the world. Ours was held in the auditorium. The theme was "Living Wisely With Creation". The program consisted of Pastors from Minden churches, several ladies leading the responsive reading, guest speaker Ron Reid and four ladies singing and playing guitars. After the service the ladies from the churches served tea. It was a lovely service and we sincerely thank those who were responsible.

It is a pleasure to have Ruth Griffin back with us after her illness. Congratulations to Karen Treharne on the birth of her baby boy. Welcome to Lillian Harrison, a new resident.

LET'S STOP RACISM

"People may be different on the outside, but they are no different on the inside."

— Jasmine Buntain, Age 11

Our children are called the future. They come into our world full of innocence and hope until they are taught to distrust and, sometimes, even to hate. Racists are made, not born.

Parents can teach their children to understand the value of compassion, respect and understanding of others. Or, they can sow the seeds of intolerance, bigotry and cruelty — the things that divide a society and keep us apart.

Racism exists in many forms and can be found everywhere in Canada. March 21 is the International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination. And it is Canada's Anti-Racism Day, a time for us all to join the fight against inequality.

Let's work together with our families and friends to break down the barriers that divide us. Let's set an example for our children and help create a world free of prejudice and discrimination.

Let's bring back the hope of a better tomorrow and make it real because ...

If you don't stop Racism, who will?

Chamber looking to increase membership

by Andy Salvatori

Chamber Membership: To Be Or Not To Be?

Ah, yes, that is the question! The question has given rise to many discussions in the past and will continue to do so in the future.

But just what is it that would motivate a businessperson to financially support the Chamber by becoming a member? Could it be an affordable group insurance plan, representation at major shows such as the outdoor Canada show, or the ability to display brochures at the Chamber Office?

The reason for joining are many and varied, but perhaps a more important question to ask would be: Why are you not a member of our Chamber?

This question was recently asked to a number of non-members by the volunteers of the Membership Committee. The random, informal survey revealed the following responses:

1. Cost
2. We've never been personally contacted and/or asked to join
3. Chamber does nothing for the Main Street business community
4. Chamber serves only as a booking agency for resorts
5. Past experience with the Chamber

These are all welcome concerns and we appreciate your feedback. It is these concerns that the Chamber and its volunteers are attempting to address in the following ways:

Cost: This year the Chamber has revised its fee to an even $100.00. This eliminates a previously confusing and frustrating membership fee calculation. This year's membership will cost you less than 28 cents a day!

Never Contacted and/or Asked To Join: Please consider this article as one invitation to join the Chamber. Currently, our Membership Committee is tentatively planning a Membership Drive to begin sometime in April - when you receive an invitation to join in the mail, give it your consideration.

Main Street Business Concerns: A major concern of non-members was that the Chamber failed to directly address the needs of the Main Street businesses. One of the ways the Chamber will be addressing the issue will be through a series of planned informational and educational meetings on various subjects directly related to the small businessperson. Our first meeting is tentatively planned for April 23.

The purpose of the meeting will be to inform local business owners of the proposed changes to Ontario's Labor Relations Act. These changes, if legislated could have far reaching effects on businesses of all sizes. Are you aware of how they will affect yours?

The Chamber's success is its membership. Our County is blessed with an abundance of experienced, creative, ingenious and committed business people all working towards the same goal: the long term profitability of their enterprise. Our successful future depends on our ability to attract and retain visitors to our County. Right now, your Chamber of Commerce is the only group focused on accomplishing this monumental task - and we need your support.

If you are not currently a member, we challenge you to join the Chamber. We challenge you to get involved and to make a difference. Every new member brings with him or her a breath of fresh air, exciting new ideas and a part of that experience, creativity, ingenuity and commitment that is so abundant. If you would like more information about Chamber Membership and its benefits please call our Chamber office now at 286-1760 or toll-free at 1-800-461-7677.
